

Janet Jackson - Whoops Now lyrics

Friday morning and all my work is done
I've packed my bags, I'm on the run
I gotta feeling that I'm gonna have some fun
In the sun, with my friends, and it's gonna be going

Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Sorry I can't, sorry I can't go now

Friday night and my boss is on the phone
He's telling me that I can't leave home
An extra hand at work is what he called for
He said, he needs you here, tell my friends I'm going

Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
I don't know why my job has called me in

Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
I don't know why my job has called me

It makes no difference if you love work or not
If you dream your weekend, hand on a door knob
Out with your friends having fun in the sun now
That's when the phone rings

Friday evening and I'm all alone at home
I know my friends are having fun
Another week and I'll leave the machine on Next time the boss, he'll hear my voice
Saying loud and clear

Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
I'm out having fun in the sun with my friends

Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go
Whoops now, sorry I can't go

I'm out having fun in the sun, with my friends
With my friends, with my friends
With my friends, with my friends
