Those buttons were : The "Scene Selections " (Chapters) menu . The buttons didn't go to the correct "Chapter" (didn't match the original menu of the two "Split" discs.) Cholla The "Special Features" "Multi-Angle Stunts" would only go to the first angle no matter which angle was selected. Also it wouldn't return to the "Multi-Angle Stunts" menu . You had to return to the main menu. Join Date: Jul 2007 Location: Amarillo ,Texas There are some instructions changed for the Renamed files from the "MockStrip" folder . There is a difference in that Chapter forward starts the movie instead of the "Multi-Angle Stunts" Menu where selected while playing an angle. Chapter backward does nothing on either the angle on the original or created movi The "Original" goes to the "Multi-Angle Stunts" menu when Chapter forward is used. To correct this use PGCEdit "Trace Mode" . Open two instances of PGCEdit. One with Full Disc"/D1. One with original D1 . Carefully compare differences in the "Special Effects" menu . Moderator and Reviewer	Well done cholla! 😅
	You got there in the end.
	As I said at the start you'd think this sort of thing would be simple but it's not. 😂

MyCE Resident	I decided to test IdealDVDCopy(evaluation) to "Split" a DVD-9 . I then used the procedure above to "Merge" the two DVD-5s of the "Split" back together. When compared the D1 & D2 from IdealDVDCopy had differences from DVDFab .s "Split". I expected this & actually hoped they would to give the test a better try. They worked fine after being "Merged " back together.
